

IN DSP FAQ

General Questions:

Is the NSC Indiana Defensive Driving Course an IN BMV approved Driver Safety Program?

Yes. Both the online and DVD versions of the NSC Indiana Defensive Driving Course are approved Driver Safety Programs by the IN BMV.

Who should complete a Driver Safety Program (DSP)?

The most common reasons why Indiana drivers complete a Driver Safety Program (DSP) are:

- You have received a notification from the BMV that you must complete a DSP.
- Your court requires that you complete a DSP.
- You are not required to complete a DSP, but you wish to have a 4-point credit applied to your driving record.

Please note: By completing a BMV-Approved Driver Safety Program which is ordered by the BMV, you will not only satisfy BMV requirements, but will also receive a 4-point credit to your driving record as long as you haven't completed a Driver Safety Program in the past 3 years for point reduction purposes. If you want to lower your risk of having your license suspended, consider completing the course before reaching the point when the BMV will require you to take the course. For example, if you get one traffic citation and you haven't taken a DSP course within 3 years for point reduction, you should consider taking the course. That way, not only will you have fewer points on your record, but if you were to get a second traffic citation within 12 months, the BMV will not order you to take the course because you have already done so voluntarily.

Why am I required to complete a Driver Safety Program (DSP)?

If you receive notice that you must complete a Driver Safety Program (DSP), it is typically because of one of these reasons:

- You are convicted of two or more traffic offenses within a 12-month period (Drivers 18 years of age and older)
- You have been ordered by a judge/court to complete a DSP as an alternative to suspension of driving privileges.
- You are under 18 years of age AND:
 - You have been convicted of two or more traffic offenses;
 - You have been involved in two or more collisions;
 - A combination of these has occurred;

If you are required to complete the Driver Safety Program by the IN BMV, you must complete the course within 90 days or your license will be suspended. You will need to allow 7 to 10 business days for the BMV to apply your completion to your record.

When you purchase the DVD course, a paper-based, 25-question post-test will be included along with a self-addressed postage-paid envelope to return the post-test to NSC for grading. Once received, your test will be graded within one business day. You must score at least 80% to successfully pass the course.
